The evolution from the old to the new was practically completed at 3:47 o'clock yesterday morning when the big bicycle locomotive attached to train No. 89 of the Pennsylvania railroad, with many a puff of smoke and hiss of steam, rolled under the train sheds at the Union depot and discharged its drowsy passengers of the night. The arrival of the Congressional limits of the Congression of the Congressional limits of the Congression of the Congressional limits of the Congression of the sional limited from the metropolis at 4 o'clock was also hailed as an advent, for this train has become an institution in the railroad annals of the city. Wants Clubhouse for Chorus Girls. PITTSBURG, November 18.-A clubnouse for chorus girls, including among its many attractive features a place for the girls to dance, and all this arranged and countenanced by church people, is the latest fad in Pittsburg. Rev. E. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Pittsburg, is head of the scheme, and said: "I am heartily in favor of a clubhouse for chorus girls, and I hope to be able to put a proposition along those lines before such people as I believe would be interested in the wel fare of the many chorus girls who come to this city. It would be my idea to mak the club not so strict along religious line as to drive away those girls who wer really not religiously inclined. Of course I would want an air of religion about the lace, but I would not care to have it so absolutely rigid that chorus girls, many of whom have been used to living a different sort of life after show hours, would not feel that they were welcome. It would be my idea to equip such a place with a plane, good reading rooms and several parlors. I believe that it would be a good scheme to allow the young women to entertain male callers, but they must be decent fellows. I would have no drinking about the place, and if the girls felt like dancing I believe that I should allow them to dance a little, for the time has now ome when the religious people must distinguish between the good and bad, and here would be a place to make a distinc-

Women Oppose Prohibition.

MOBILE, Ala., November 18.-Nearly 1,000 women of Mobile, representing wealth, society and literary and church circles, headed by Mrs. Augusta Evans Wilson, an author, have signed a petition range when the twin sisters, who had been playing about the floor, began to urging that no statutory prohibition bill be passed. Business men and school teachers also petitioned the board of edu-cation for holidays Tuesday and Wednesday to permit teachers to go to Montgomery in a body and plead against the passng of the statutory bills.

Electric System Being Installed. The work of changing the electric sysem of the trolley roads crossing the new Highway bridge from the overhead to the underground across the Potomac Park from the north end of the new bridge to the tidal basin bridge has so far advanced that the trains are using both the new tracks, although the underground trolley A number of the Sunday school scholars of the Presbyteran Church attended the Christian Endeavor meeting at Baltimore last week, when Gov. tracks, although the underground trolley is not yet available. The conduits are built and all the equipment for the application of the power from the underground rail is in place, but as yet they have not been connected up with the electric wires. This will be done, it is stated, this week. A large force of hands is at work laying the concrete work between

* Thirty-sixth International Convention

Young Men's Christian Associations of North America. Washington, Nov. 22-26.

A Campaign for Men.

Washington has a unique and important opportunity this week. It is of the highest kind, for it is spiritual. If properly used, it will enrich the spiritual life of the community, and be of lasting benefit. It comes in connection with the meeting, beginning on Friday, of the Thirty-sixth International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America. Wherever that convention has met in its triennial sessions, the people of the city, without regard to their relations to the church, have profited so plainly because of its inspiration and instruction as to cause general expression of gratitude. This convention will bring to the city a large number of the spiritual leaders of the United States and Canada. They come for the definite purpose of strengthening the spiritual life of men everywhere. Not only in convention addresses, but in meetings to be held every day simultaneously with the convention. In churches, theaters, on steps of public buildings, hotels, and other places, they will exercise a gracious ministry. Their appeal will come not only to Christians, but to all men. without regard to their church relations or the absence of them. They will speak as men to men. Moreover, they are men of prayer, and they will depend upon the prayers that have been going up for this convention constantly for weeks, not only in Washington, but wherever, they your Meria Christian. not only in Washington, but wherever the Young Men's Christian Association has a representative. Never before, it is believed, has there been such preparation, especially in prayer, for such a week as that which opens here on Friday. The people of Washington have in advance shown their appreciation of its significance, by hearty co-operation with the committees of arrangement. The officers of the national and District governments, and all others who have been asked for any assistance have respected. asked for any assistance, have responded with marked cordiality. All that remains now is for the people to make the most of this great opportunity, so that the National capital may in itself and in its influence throughout the country have the full measure of beneficent and inspiring results

The Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company has until December 1 to change its system from the overhead to the underground, and it will have the work done within the limit and with about a week to spare. Contrary to general opinion the cars will continue to be operated across the new bridge by overhead trolley and the underground system will begin about a hundred feet north of the Highway bridge, at which point the nlov-changing pits will be located.
